ANT 1150. Cultural Anthropology. 3 Hours.
Investigates the field of cultural anthropology. Covers a range of societies in terms of such sociocultural institutions as kinship, gender relations, economics, politics, and religion. Examines important political and economic processes, such as colonialism and development, affecting cultures around the world.

ANT 1990. Elective. 1-4 Hours.
Offers elective credit for courses taken at other academic institutions.
May be repeated without limit.

ANT 2990. Elective. 1-4 Hours.
Offers elective credit for courses taken at other academic institutions.
May be repeated without limit.

ANT 3990. Elective. 1-4 Hours.
Offers elective credit for courses taken at other academic institutions.
May be repeated without limit.

ANT 4950. Seminar. 1-4 Hours.
Offers an in-depth study of selected topics.

ANT 4955. Project. 1-4 Hours.
Focuses on in-depth project in which a student conducts research or produces a product related to the student’s major field. May be repeated without limit.

ANT 4983. Topics. 1-4 Hours.
Covers special topics in anthropology. May be repeated without limit.

ANT 4990. Elective. 1-4 Hours.
Offers elective credit for courses taken at other academic institutions.
May be repeated without limit.

ANT 4991. Research. 1-4 Hours.
Offers students an opportunity to conduct research under faculty supervision.

ANT 4992. Directed Study. 1-4 Hours.
Offers independent work under the direction of members of the department on a chosen topic.

ANT 4993. Independent Study. 1-4 Hours.
Offers independent work under the direction of members of the department on a chosen topic.

ANT 4994. Internship. 1-4 Hours.
Provides students with an opportunity for internship work.

ANT 4995. Practicum. 1-4 Hours.
Provides eligible students with an opportunity for practical experience.

ANT 4996. Experiential Education Directed Study. 1-4 Hours.
Draws upon the student’s approved experiential activity and integrates it with study in the academic major.