Final Examinations and Related Policies on Other Exams

All final examinations, term papers, or projects must be returned to the student or be retained by the department for a period of one year.