

Graduate Certificates

Northeastern University's D'Amore-McKim School of Business helps professionals quickly develop the knowledge they need through short-term programs focused on a specific business area. Students in D'Amore-McKim's graduate certificates may choose to fill in gaps in their business knowledge or strengthen their skills in market-aligned areas to expand their career potential.

Here, students will have the opportunity to learn from our respected business faculty, many of whom are consultants, respected management leaders, and startup founders. Students will study alongside classmates with diverse backgrounds who share their passions and interests.

Students enroll in our 12–15 credit graduate certificate programs for full-time, part-time, or online study.
