The program in human services strives to provide a holistic educational experience for our students, preparing them for a career in social change by providing the theoretical and skill-based background necessary for practice and research. Consistent with the College of Social Sciences and Humanities’ Experiential Liberal Arts (http://catalog.northeastern.edu/undergraduate/social-sciences-humanities/#ela) emphasis, our students combine Northeastern University’s signature focus on experiential learning, grounded in cooperative education, with the rigorous study of society, culture, politics, and ethics in a way that is mutually reinforcing. Students engage in an integrated educational program that emphasizes experiential approaches to learning through service-learning, co-op, and internship opportunities. Upon completion of the degree, students apply professional skills in counseling roles, nonprofit management, political advocacy, or organizational and community development.
